

Building Community in School-Age Programs

School Age Core Competency Area: Relationships

When: Tuesday, November 15, 2011
6:30 p.m. to 8:30 p.m.

Where: Papillion LaVista High School Cafeteria
402 Centennial Road, 68046
(just south of 84th & Giles Road)

Cost: No charge but preregistration is required

This training will explore experiential ways you can build community among your staff, your students, and their families. You will learn specific activities that can be used to build community, as well as activities that teach the concept of community to your students. We will also have discussion around common barriers to creating community in your programs, and how a strong community can improve student behavior, family engagement, and academic achievement. This will be a "hands on" workshop, and we will be learning by doing. So come comfortably dressed and ready to engage with fellow educators.

Outward Bound Omaha is an experiential education organization that teaches leadership, character development, and service through challenge and adventure. We work with youth and adults throughout the entire metro area through expeditions, challenge course programs, and in-school sessions. We also provide educator and corporate training.

Please register by Friday, November 11 to
